SPECIAL ISSUES

Daily allowances for the self-employed professionals

The self-employed professionals, affiliated to the National Old-Age Insurance Fund for the self-employed professionals, may receive, starting from July 1st, 2021, daily allowances for work stoppages.

OTHER NEWS

Extension of covid-19 work stoppages : For several months now, employees and self-employed workers who cannot telework have the possibility, in certain situations, to benefit from a work stoppage adapted to the Covid-19 epidemic. These so-called "exceptional" work stoppages entitle them to the payment of daily social security allowances without waiting period and without the requirement to comply with the usual conditions for entitlement. In view of the current health situation, the public authorities have decided to maintain this system until September 30, 2021.

Longer paternity leave : As provided for by the Social Security Financing Act for 2021, the duration of paternity and childcare leave is extended. This leave is thus increased from 11 to 25 calendar days (from 10 to 22 days in the case of multiple births). This leave concerns both employees and self-employed workers (self-employed traders, and self-employed professionals). Basically, this applies to children born on or after July 1st, 2021. However, it also applies to children born before July 1st, 2021, while they were expected to be born after July 1st, 2021.

Abandonment of professional rents : The draft amending the finance law for 2021 proposes to extend until December 31, 2021, the period during which rent abatements granted by landlords to businesses in difficulty are not taxable. This support scheme does not apply to simple grace periods. It applies to rent abatements in the strict sense, i.e., definitive renunciations of the collection of rents by the landlord.

Aid for buyers of a business : Companies that acquired a business in 2020 and did not have any turnover during the same year due to the lockdown order imposed on them to fight against the Covid-19 epidemic can receive a financial assistance. The amount of this aid is calculated in relation to the fixed costs of each company.

SHORT NEWS

Due to the health crisis and the measures taken to contain the epidemic, household consumption fell by 7.1% in 2020, according to the National Institute of Statistics (INSEE).

While it predicted, last March, a 5.5% increase in French GDP in 2021, the Bank of France raised its forecast by 0.25 points. For 2022, the institution forecasts 4% growth and +2% in 2023.

According to a recent study by IPSOS polling institute, while for 54% of employees, the health crisis has had little impact on their working conditions, for the others, it has resulted in a deterioration or intensification of their activity.

Although the turnover of companies with less than 50 employees increased by 4.7% in the first quarter of 2021 compared to the same period in 2020, it is still down compared to 2019 (Small and Middle Enterprises barometer established by the Observatory of the Accounting Profession). Small businesses have therefore not yet returned to their pre-Covid-19 level of activity.

QUESTION

Statement of an employee's trial period

I plan to recruit an employee on a fixed-term contract and to provide for a trial period of 10 days in his employment contract. How should this period be counted?
